At the moment it's a traffic island, and cars have taken over — but could it become a place full of life and people. The idea is to transform West Crosscauseway — one of Southside's oldest streets — into a place for people, buzzing with activity. In 2007, we did it successfully for three days in May as part of the SIX CITIES Festival. The Causey rolled out the pink carpet, turned road signs into palm trees, filled the roadway with grass, painted garlands of exotic flowers on the tarmac and transformed the traffic island into a tropical island.

Now, with Causey2, the West Crosscauseway Association would like to transform the place permanently... and we'd like your help.

You'll explore and discover the history of the Causey, understand the present condition of the Causey, and explore and express your ideas for its future as a place full of life and people. Architects and artists will lead the workshop.

If you'd like to participate in the workshop, please apply no later than noon on Friday 25th September 2009. Places are limited and will be allocated on a first come first served basis.

Please fill in the attached Application Form and email it to info@thecausey.org or post to Isobel Leckie, Secretary, Crosscauseway Association, 1 West Crosscauseway, Edinburgh, EH8 9JW. For more information please call 0131 668 2635 or visit www.thecausey.org.
